A Check to the Feast.

The mummy trade was supported by vari-ous classes of the community, for artists declared that mammy powder beaten with oil gave richer tones of brown than any other substance, and modern performers found means of preparing the perfumers and spices found inside the body, so as to make them exceedingly attractive to the ladies. Paper manufacturers found that the wrappings of the mummies could be converted into coarse paper for the use of grocers, and the cloth and rags were sometimes used as clothing—at least so we are told by Abdallatif, a traveler of the Twelfth century, who also record show one of his friends found in the tombs at

Ghizeh a jar carefully sealed, which he open-deal of it, and was only checked in his feast by drawing out a hair, whereupon he investi-gated further and found the body of an ancient Egyptian baby in good condition and adorned with jeweis. He does not regord how he enjoyed that meal in retrospect. Im-agine dining off the honeyed ossence of a

At the Southwestern Business College Corner Douglas and Topeka Aves.

A six months' term of evening sessions will begin at the Southwestern Business College on Monday evening, October 3rd. The fol-lowing branches will be thoroughly taught, single and double entery book-keeping in all their forms, business writing, type writing, arithmetic, reading, spelling and short-hand. Each student will be instructed privately at the dech thus avoiding all embarrasment. Running races will be governed by the American Association rules except jockeys in his desk, thus avoiding all embarrassment. This will be a rare opportunity for young men and women who are desirous of extending their knowledge, and being otherwise engaged are unable to attend our day-sessions. We can point to a large number of ladies and gentlemen who attended our night sessions last year and in less than six months gained such a knowledge of business that they were enabled to resign their laborious and penurious positions and accept easier and more remuncrative ones. No young person with any ambition whatever, is willing to hold the same situation all his life with no chance for advancement. This night school will be the very medium through which be can elevate himself and prepare for something financially better.

Toition—payable in advance—full term of six months, when all is paid on entering, $25, per month in advance, $6. Tuition will be the same regardless of the number of branches pursued. The school will be in session from 7:30 to 9:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of each week.

The Widow Mason would gladly have re warded the handsome sheriff for his zeal in her behalf by marrying him. Widows have a way of making their intentions palpable without detracting from their fascinations. Old Harvey is of the opinion today that if the marine brigade had not raided the town just about that time and carried him off a prisoner, Mrs. Mason would have been Mrs. Harvey and he would have been nobody. He considers that the brigade was an instrument in the hands of Providence for that occasion from hand to hand until he found himself at Alten prison. There were a lot of fellows there that he knew, men who had been captured as scouts on the battlefield, men who had been picked up by the wayside, sick and worn. They were hungry and gaunt, and woe worn and heart sick. Harvey says he bung his head before them for very shame, because he was neither hungry, nor gaunt, nor heart sick, nor woe worn.
